The Details of the New Reconstruction Scheme.

The following "special" from Forney's paper, the Philadelphia Inquirer, explains the origin of the new reconstruction scheme.

In reference to the demand of the people of the North, and in which Southern representative men who have been heard upon the subject acquiesce, the President thinks that the negro population of the South have such safeguards thrown about them as to secure them the permanent enjoyment of their freedom, and that the negro, armed with the ballot, can as well protect himself as any other citizen.

Some of the Northern States, Massachusetts and New York for example, have given the ballot to the negro. In one of them is an educational, in the other a property qualification, and it is asked why may not South Carolina, for instance, be placed upon the same footing with Massachusetts as to those who shall hereafter be admitted to the elective franchise, and why may not the loyal representatives of the former be admitted to Congress upon the same footing as the representatives of the latter? Marking out this plan in a practical form, let the people of the State of South Carolina so amend their constitution and laws to extend the elective franchise so far as Massachusetts has gone.

As an incentive to this reform, the President intimates his readiness to issue a proclamation of amnesty to all the people of South Carolina who may have approved the movement. This reform being accomplished, the people of that State electing loyal representatives to Congress, blacks voting with whites, as indicated above, it would then rest with Congress to determine whether these representatives should be admitted. I have good reasons for saying this plan for adjusting the existing difficulties in the way of reconstruction is now receiving the serious consideration of the Administration, and has been discussed in the Cabinet with a view to its adoption. It differs from Mr. Greeley's amnesty suffrage scheme in that it provides for separate State action and proposes a qualified suffrage; and it leaves impracticable and unrepented rebels still subject to the penalties for treason—amnesty and suffrage each being qualified. It leaves States to the exercise of their constitutional prerogative of prescribing the qualification of voters and extending the elective franchise to the negro; to the Executive the dispensation of pardon and amnesty, and to the Legislative the admission of loyal representatives to the respective Houses in Congress, each branch of the Government thus moving in its appropriate sphere.

REVIVAL ON A STEAMBOAT.—Hon. T. L. Clingman bore narrates the following incident: On Sunday last he was on board of the steamer R. E. Lee, coming to New Orleans, and the Rev. C. K. Marshall, of Mississippi, one of the most eloquent divines in the country, was also a passenger on the same boat. Being on intimate terms with the reverend gentleman, Col. C. requested him to deliver a sermon to his fellow passengers and the crew.

Obtaining an assent to his proposition, there were soon collected in the cabin not only a large number of passengers, but all the attaches of the steamer—both white and black—who could be spared from their regular duties. Mr. Marshall took his stand under the chandelier in the ladies cabin, and selected the subjoined text: "Righteousness exalteth a nation." The iollowed an eloquent discourse upon personal, religious and national topics, such as is seldom listened to, and its effect upon the many persons present was heightened by the strange surroundings. We are assured by several of our prominent citizens who happened to be among the audience, that never was their feelings so worked upon by the words of an orator, and that at one time there was scarcely a dry eye to be seen.

At the conclusion of the sermon, the assemblage, as it by spontaneous accord, burst forth in that grand old doxology: "Praise ye the Lord," which was sung with great effect. Never before has such a scene been witnessed on a steamboat and the memory of that Sabbath evening service, out on the broad bosom of the Mississippi, will long live in the minds of those who participated therein.

BROOM CORN.—As there is constantly an increasing demand for broom corn, it has become one of the staple articles of produce in this country, and a most profitable crop to raise in certain sections, by those who understand it; for in this, as in anything else, you must understand what is to be done, and how to do it. Soil that will grow Indian corn, will also produce good broom corn. Never prepare soil for the culture of broom corn, that produces poor Indian corn, if you do not wish to reap the same results in return. The soil should not be plowed long before planting, and it may be prepared in the same manner as for Indian corn, while care is taken to have the ground thoroughly harrowed. In selecting the seed great care should be exercised in purchasing the very best that can be procured, as it is a crop that deteriorates rapidly, and the seed should be changed often.

Some advocate changing the seed as often as every other year, in order to secure a good crop of fine brush. To be certain that the seed is perfectly good, it is always best to test some of it by sprouting before planting; many a failure of securing a good crop has arisen in consequence of neglecting to test the seed; too much caution, therefore, cannot be exercised in this respect. From the 10th of May to the 10th of June is the usual time for planting; but generally it is best to put in seed about the 25th of May. In planting by hand, mark off the field in rows three feet apart, and drop eight or ten seeds in a hill, the hills being about eighteen inches apart, and cover with a hoe about an inch deep with fine moist earth. Where large fields are planted, a seed planter can be used to great advantage.—Rural American.

WISDOM AND WIT.—A representative, in his maiden speech on the floor of Congress, in reply to an opponent, by his telling hits and witty speeches and puns, kept the house in a roar of laughter for nearly half an hour, closing amid quite a demonstration of approbation, and, as he thought, with great success. What was his astonishment, after having received the congratulations of several friends at the close of the day's proceedings, to be greeted by Mr. Benton, who, taking him aside, said:

"Sir, I have heard your speech. I have been here many years. This is your first session.—Will you permit me to give you a bit of advice?"

"Certainly, sir," was the reply. "I shall feel honored by your courtesy."

"Well, sir," said Mr. Benton, "your speech was exceedingly brilliant; it sparkled with wit; it was funny; they laughed heartily at it; but never do such a thing here again if you wish to advance as a statesman and politician."

"What!" said the astonished debutant, "never make a speech?"

"No, sir, not that; but don't make people laugh," replied Benton.

"Not make people laugh, Mr. Benton! Why it requires some genius to make a witty speech."

"True, sir; but the public has a poor appreciation of genius. You must gain a reputation for wisdom, not wit. You can gain a reputation for wisdom in Congress by not speaking a single word during the session."

"A reputation for wisdom?"

"Certainly. Sit still and look wise. Mankind is prone to reverence the solemn ass!"

Relief for the People.

The conferences of the members of the Legislature, among themselves and with the people, seem to have fixed a decided impression, that the universal spirit of seeing under the Convention stay law, must be arrested. Under this conviction, a bill carefully considered and prepared, was presented on yesterday in the House, by Mr. Latham, of Craven, which limits the jurisdiction of the County and Superior Courts, and prevents all action for the present in matters of debt, and arrests the progress of judgments and executions, we believe. The bill will possibly meet with opposition, but from what we can learn, the body is so fully convinced that the condition of the people demands extra measures of relief, that nothing but a strong remedy will meet the case, we should not be surprised if the bill passes.

One of the most encouraging signs of the times, is the bill offered by Mr. McKay, of Cumberland, authorizing a loan of $10,000,000 of gold in Europe, by the State, and the establishment of a Savings Bank. The bill is carefully drawn and well guarded, and its provisions in no wise conflict with the government banking act.

What our people need is money. Much of the enterprise of our people is curbed for the want of it. It is for this reason alone, that both public and private indebtedness cannot be cancelled without general distress and ruin. We are assured that the projectors of this bill, have satisfactory evidence that the loan can be effected in Europe on favorable terms. The present state of public affairs, in reference to reconstruction, might cause some delay, but should our horizon become clearer, the thing will be easily accomplished.

Mr. Stevens' Bill.

Our telegram gives the interesting intelligence that after a sharp contest on yesterday in the House, the bill of Mr. Stevens was referred to the re-construction committee by a decided vote, which Mr. Stevens affirmed, was tantamount to its destruction. The colored radical sheet in this city, must take back its cheering counsel to its friends. The territorializing scheme we judge has played out, and Holden is again in the mud.

Veto Message.

The Veto Message of the President on the Colorado bill, it will be seen was sent in on yesterday. The facts disclosed by the President, present the conduct of those members of Congress who voted for it, in no enviable light. It was forced upon the country in opposition to a majority of the people of the territory, whose population is only one-fifth of the usual number required for the admission of States. What will not blind partyism lead men to?

Forney's Speculations.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, is responsible for the following:

The so-called Governor Vance, of North Carolina, says he has assurances from the President that the Supreme Court will recognize the Southern States, and declare that the legislation of the present Congress is invalid.

We have no positive information upon the subject, but we hazard little in saying, that the whole statement is a fabrication. Months upon months, if not years, have elapsed since Gov. Vance saw President Johnson, and we are inclined to the opinion that any correspondence which may have occurred between them, has been entirely confined to Gov. Vance's own personal matters. Gov. Vance is closely engaged in his profession, and any attempt to connect him in any way with political movements, does him injustice. If, however, at any time, the President has made any remark to him, which we do not believe, bearing upon the status of the South, we are sure it would not have found its way into the newspapers.

The Standard's Falsehoods.

Holden has become so debased, it would seem he cannot speak the truth, were he to try.—Lies suit his present diabolical purposes far better than truth, and they are likely to prove perfectly impotent in helping him into notice or office. It is for this reason that we have of late seldom noticed his assertions or statements.—They are so glaring, they carry with them their own refutation. The last number of his paper abounds in falsehood. Hence we pass over what he says of Gov. Worth or the Sentinel or its editors. His attacks are perfectly harmless. In North Carolina they know him thoroughly, and it seems he is becoming well known in Washington. They have measured his length among the Radicals, and they will let him go.

We regret to learn that Mr. Jones Spencer, the Senator elect from Hyde and Tyrrell, at the last accounts was very ill at home, having also lost his wife, during the recess. This accounts for his absence from his place in the Senate. Hyde never had a better representative or a more faithful public servant.

NEW SENATOR.—We learn that Jos. H. Cardwell, Esq., was elected State Senator from the County of Rockingham, on Thursday last, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Hand.

Gov. Swann, of Maryland, has been elected U. S. Senator from that State for six years. He was elected on the 9th. ballot.

Diseases of Hogs.

Swine are much more subject to disease than most persons imagine, and the human species who eat swine are much more interested in the preservation of their health, than is generally conceived. Many of the diseases of mankind, we imagine, originate in the consumption of unhealthy animal food. If so, it is important that all animals should be in a perfectly healthy state, when slaughtered for food.

On the subject of the diseases of hogs, the last Danville Times publishes a letter from a Mr. Kemp who seems to have had considerable experience in their management. He thinks that the prevalent disease this winter among hogs, generally called cholera, is nothing but fever. He classes the diseases of hogs thus: measles, fever, mange, murrian or leprosy and gargut.

He has cured a number afflicted with fever or so-called cholera, with the following prescription: one tea-spoonful of spirits of turpentine, one table-spoonful of castor oil, and one table-spoonful of sulphur, to be given as soon as the disease appears, and to be repeated frequently.

THE WINTER AT WASHINGTON.—Much gaiety and amusement have been indulged this winter at Washington, amid the suffering and gloom which pervades the country. So the world wags.

The editor of the Old North State says, the North Carolina Commission attended the President's levee and that among all the distinguished guests who graced the occasion, none were more courtly and dignified than his associate Col. Bedford Brown. Col. Brown belongs to an age and a class, of which the present generation has but few imitators. Public men of this age are fast deteriorating. Few have the high bearing, the integrity and straightforwardness of our fathers.

For the Sentinel.

Reduced Fees.

The last Legislature, in view of the decreased business in the Courts, consequent upon the stay law, and the decreased value of the circulating medium, passed an act increasing the pay of clerks, witnesses, and jurors, fifty per cent. with the understanding that this per cent. should be taken off when the currency should again approximate gold value. This was right in principle, because all these fees were intended originally to be fixed at the specie standard. But the Senate of the present Assembly has passed a bill to reduce the pay of clerks, jurors and witnesses to the old rates, or making their fees from 35 to 50 per cent. below the specie standard. We have yet to see what the House of Commons will do in regard to this bill.

The members of the General Assembly increased their own pay from three to six dollars per day. "Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." A WITNESS.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

TUESDAY Morning, Jan. 29.

The Senate was called to order at 10½ o'clock.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Atkinson of the Presbyterian church.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Cunningham, from the committee on Propositions and Grievances, to whom was referred sundry papers from the Ladies' Memorial Association of Richmond Va., asking for an appropriation to aid in marking and protecting the graves of North Carolinians who fell in the late war and are buried near Richmond, reported at some length and recommended the passage of a resolution appropriating one thousand dollars from the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated, and that the Governor be authorized to forward the said sum to the proper authority, obtain a receipt for the same, and make a report to the next General Assembly.

Mr. Gash, from the committee on Claims, to whom was referred a bill for the relief of the estate of the late L. O'B. Branch, recommended its passage.

By the same, a resolution in favor of C. Perkins, reported adversely.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Willey, a resolution in favor of the Sheriff of Gates county. Passed its several readings under the suspension of the rules.

Mr. Wilson, a bill to incorporate the Clearland Mineral Spring. Referred to the committee on Corporations.

Mr. Matthews, a bill to change the jurisdiction of the courts and the manner of pleading therein. Ordered to be printed and referred to the committee on Propositions and Grievances.

On motion of Mr. Etheridge, the rules were suspended and the bill to amend an act for the better regulation of the town of Jackson in the county of Onslow, was taken up and passed its several readings.

A message was received from the House proposing to raise a Joint Select committee on the subject of sine die adjournment, which was laid on the table.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Bill to protect property sold under execution from sacrifice, came up and Mr. Cowles offered an amendment, (provided this act does not include debts contracted since the 1st of May 1865,) on motion the yeas and nays were called and it was rejected by a vote of 25 to 17. Mr. Love then offered an amendment. (Provided, that this act shall not apply to notes or evidences of debt held by Guardians, Administrators or Executors of deceased persons as such, unless the creditor or heir to said estate shall be compelled to receive said property as a part or whole of his claim, at the price said Guardian, Administrator or Executor may have to pay for the same under the provisions of this act.) Mr. Leach opposed this amendment in a speech at length, and argued that the chief merit of the bill in its original form, is its protection to the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers.

Mr. Love replied, that his sympathies were with that class of people; he had been blessed with the honor of acting with those brave men, but he was opposed to any measure that looked to repudiation, or that was calculated to disgrace and injure the credit of the State. He had offered the amendment in good faith and hoped it would be adopted. The ayes and nays were then called and it was rejected by a vote of 22 to 21. Mr. McCorkle then offered an amendment, (to the effect that at the end of the twelve months the defendants should give bond and security for the forthcoming of the property. Mr. Leach warmly and earnestly opposed the amendment, contending that if the man was not willing to give three-fourths he ought not to have it. Mr. McCorkle urged the adoption of the amendment; held that it the bill passed in its present condition it would destroy every officer in the State, and he believed it to be unconstitutional, beyond doubt. The question being on the adoption of the amendment it was rejected. Mr. Avery then offered to amend by inserting, Provided, That this act shall not apply to persons acting in a fiduciary capacity, when such person or persons shall be plaintiff; but such person so acting in a fiduciary capacity, shall be permitted to purchase property in the names of persons entitled to the benefits of the estate, subject to the approval of the Court of pleas and quarter sessions, if he shall make payments therefor, in evidences of indebtedness held in the names of the person or persons for whom he is acting.

Mr. Leach opposed the amendment, believing it would destroy the bill. Mr. Avery insisted that if that would destroy the bill, it ought to be destroyed. The amendment was lost. The question arising on the passage of the bill Mr. Hall arose and said he had not intended to say anything, but the discussion had placed those who had opposed the bill in a false position.—No man more deeply sympathized with the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers than himself and those who voted with him, and none would go farther in helping them, but he had been influenced by different and higher motives; he believed it unconstitutional and would be injurious to public and private credit. After some further explanation, the vote was taken and, the ayes and nays being called, resulted as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Adams, Battle, Barnes, Berry, Brown, Bullock, Clark, Covington, Cowles, Cunningham, Edwards, Etheridge, Perebee, Harris, of Franklin, Johnston, Jones, Kelly, Koonce, Leach, Love, Lloyd, Marshall, Matthews, McLean, Moore, Paschal, Perkins, Richardson, Snead, Speed, Thompson, Thornton, Wiggins, Willey and Williams—35.

NAYS.—Messrs. Avery, Gash, Hall, Harris, of Rutherford, Hill, McCorkle, McRae, Robins and Wilson—9.

Mr. Jones moved to reconsider the vote of yesterday on the homestead bill. Mr. Hall moved that it be laid on the table. Before the question was taken, Mr. Paschall moved an adjournment and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

TUESDAY, Jan. 29th. 1867.

The House was called to order at Half Past Ten o'clock.

Mr. Russ rose to a personal explanation, relative to his vote for U. S. Senator at the last session. He stated that Mr. Pool had deceived him as to his views concerning the Howard amendment and kindred matters, and he now regretted the vote he had given on that occasion.

[Mr. Russ' remarks will appear to-morrow.]

Messrs. Rogers and Perry, of Wake, endorsed the statements of Mr. Russ, alleging that they also had been deceived as to Mr. Pool's views in the premises, and regretted having voted for him.

Mr. Henry defended Mr. Pool as a consistent opponent of the Howard amendment, and a man of honor.

Sundry reports were made from Standing Committees, which will be noticed in detail hereafter.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

By Mr. Waugh, Resolutions proposing the call of a Constitutional Convention. Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

By Mr. Horton of Watauga, a resolution of enquiry addressed to the Judiciary Committee, relative to the status of Freedmen, etc. Referred.

By Mr. Russ, a bill in relation to Hunting on the Sabbath.

By Mr. Holderby, a bill to incorporate the Rockingham and Henry Railroad Company.

By Mr. Horton of Watauga, a bill to authorise A. J. Mc Bride, sheriff of Watauga to collect arrears of taxes.

By Mr. Crawford of Macon, a bill to incorporate the American Industrial Association of North Carolina. Also, a bill for the relief of purchasers of vacant lands in the county of Macon.

By Mr. Chadwick, a bill to subject to entry the land covered by the waters of Long Lake in the county of Craven.

By Mr. Davis, a bill in relation to Deeds of Trust and Mortgages.

ON CALENDAR—BILLS ON SECOND READING.

A bill to repeal certain acts, heretofore passed, defining the powers of the county courts, in levying taxes for county purposes, was laid on the table.

A bill to amend the charter of the Albemarle Swamp Land Company, passed its 2nd and 3rd readings.

The Special Order for 12 o'clock to-day, being the Revenue Bill, it had its first reading, and was then postponed until Thursday next, on motion of Mr. Harper.

A bill to amend Sec. 71, chapter 31 of the Revised Code, passed its second readings. (Increases the pay of witnesses to $1.00).

A bill to protect honest debtors, was laid on the table on second reading.

A bill to exempt certain articles from execution was also laid on the table.

A bill to abolish imprisonment for debt, was discussed. Messers Dargan, McKay, Latham of Washington, Richardson, and Latham of Craven, warmly supported it, and it was opposed by Mr. Long. It was amended and finally referred to a select committee.

A message was received from the Governor transmitting a petition from citizens of Granville county, praying the establishment of a warehouse at Henderson, N. C., for the storage of Tobacco, and the appointment of Inspectors. Sent to the Senate.

The House then adjourned.

[Mr. Waugh was reported erroneously on yesterday, as favoring the resolution of Mr. Peebles, to ask the opinion of the Supreme Court as to the power of the Legislature, to repeal or modify the Stay law, passed by the Convention. Mr. Waugh opposed the resolution and voted against it.]

Where's the Nigger.

A Radical sheet says:

"We have had the Republican victory—now where's the nigger?"

Go to your store, and you get from eighteen to twenty-five cents worth of nigger in every yard of muslin you buy; from ten to fifteen cents worth of nigger in every yard of calico your wife and children use; from eight to six dollars worth of nigger in each barrel of flour your family consumes; twenty-five cents worth of nigger in each pound of coffee you purchase; from eight to ten cents worth of nigger in each pound of sugar you buy to sweeten it. You'll find a small bit of nigger in your box of matches, and considerable nigger in your plug of tobacco. You can eat nothing, wear nothing, taste nothing or have nothing that is not more or less affected by the miserable niggerish that has controlled the country since "Old Abe" left Springfield for Washington.

There is a scheme on foot to obtain a charter from the Legislature to contract a canal from Stokes's Ferry, on the Yadkin river, to Prosperity, on Deep river, in Moore county. The Wilmington Dispatch says such a canal will make Deep and Cape Fear rivers navigable from Prosperity to Wilmington, by introducing the water orm the Yadkin.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The territorial suffrage bill, which was presented to the President for his signature on the 12th instant, has, it is understood, become a law without his signature. This bill provides that there shall hereafter be no distinction of race or color in the right of suffrage in the Territories.

WHO BOUGHT ASHLEY?

A letter was received in this city to-day from a broker in New York, whose name and address can be furnished, and who is vouched for as reliable, charging that the sum of $50,000 was subscribed among the brokers in that city to induce the offering of impeachment resolutions in the House. The letter refers to one broker who admits having subscribed 5,000. It does not appear that any money was ever paid.—Washington Letter.

Extract from a letter of the correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette of the 24th inst.

The visit of Governor Orr, of South Carolina, and several other prominent Southern gentlemen to the Metropolis has revived speculations as to compromises. I am far from thinking that the Radical leaders could be induced to favor any practicable plan of settling the difficulties which now distract the country. Their purposes are widely different. Every act and word of theirs pointedly exhibit, rather a firm determination to interpose every obstacle in the way of a peaceful solution of the existing embarrassed sectional relations. There can be no doubt, however, of the great anxiety of the South that perfect union and harmony should be restored to the whole country, not that they would be willing to sacrifice much to bring about so desirable a result. It will be recollected that Judge Chase, in a speech he made in Philadelphia some months ago, favoring the adoption of the famous "Constitutional amendment," suggested the propriety of some offer by the South, and that about the same time he proposed to the President a plan of adjustment based upon the propositions contained in that amendment, with the substitution of impartial suffrage for the second and third sections. I understand that gentlemen now here, who are known to have the confidence of the great body of the Southern people, represent that this proposition of the Chief Justice would be cheerfully accepted in any form which Congress may prescribe; or rather, (which embraced an additional concession) that the South would accept as the condition of universal amnesty and unrestricted representation, impartial suffrage and representation according to the voting population. I mention these facts, not in the belief that any practicable result is in the slightest degree probable, but merely to show the people of the North the true attitude of the South, so that they may contrast it with the revolutionary programme of the Destructives. X.

Southern Post Offices and the Supreme Court Decision.

It is understood that Postmaster General Randall will, in the course of a few days, submit an enquiry to Attorney General Stanberry, as to whether or not the late decision by the Supreme Court of the unconstitutionality of the "iron-clad" or test oath, relieves persons of the disabilities which they have heretofore been laboring under, on account of sympathy or participation in the late rebellion, and enable them to qualify as postmasters by taking the former prescribed oath of office, to support the Union and the Constitution and for the faithful performance of their duties. Should the opinion of the Attorney General be in accordance with the expression everywhere entertained, it will go far towards reopening several thousand post offices in the Southern States, which, owing to the "test oath" have been closed, and the government of the large amount of revenue accruing therefrom, when in active operation.—Washington Constitutional Union, 23d, inst.

REPORTED VIEWS OF SECRETARY STANTON ON THE SITUATION.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post sends the following to that journal:

"Hon. John Covode called upon Secretary Stanton yesterday, and there ensued a long and friendly discourse on the status of the country. Mr. Stanton appeared very desirous of discussing the current events of national import, and expressed himself freely. He confessed that from the very outset the disputations of the executive and legislative branches of the Government had caused him the liveliest alarm, which, since the movement toward impeachment, had increased to an apprehension of revolution and anarchy. The burden of his remarks was in regard to certain acts of the President and Congress, and he pointed gloomily to the deleterious effect of each upon the nation. In parting with Covode, Mr Stanton remarked: "I aided to place two million of men in the field to put down the rebellion; three hundred thousand have bitten the dust, and an equal number are cripples throughout the land; and yet, with all this tremendous effort and corresponding sacrifice, the country in my judgment, is shadowed with the gloom of a darker hour than was incident to any crisis of the late war." This latter expression of Mr. Stanton's solicitude is given me with scrupulous exactitude by a gentleman minutely acquainted with every circumstance in the premises, and who further avers that the Secretary seemed completely unmanned as he uttered the last remark, and abruptly turned from his visitors to conceal his emotion."

STEVEN'S BILL—WHY HE TALKS OF WITHDRAWING IT.—The seeming check received yesterday in the House by the Radicals in their mad career of revolution is due solely to the tone of resolution recently perceptible in the public press, backed by unmistakable signs of a spirit of resistance in the masses of the people. However,

"We have scotched the snake, not killed it."

Although Mr. Stevens acknowledged the present defeat of his pet measure of practical revolution, let not the public therefore infer that the extreme element is powerless. The machinery of caucus dictation, I learn, will again be invoked, and it may be successful, as in the case of Ashley's proposition for impeachment. In some form, a practical demonstration, capable of initiating a conflict and general rupture of the peaceful relations of the country, would seem to be inevitable, as the Radicals are firmly impressed with the idea that nothing short of another physical collision can enable them to perfect their plans for the overthrow of republican government, and substituting in its stead a military despotism.—Letter in Baltimore Gazette.

THE ONE TERM CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.—The Senate Judiciary Committee have instructed Senator Trumbull to report back the amendment to the Constitution, introduced by Senator Wade, providing that the President of the United States shall not be eligible for a second term. It is changed somewhat from the original, and is in effect as follows: No person who, by virtue of an election to the office of President or Vice-President, has held the office of President, shall be eligible to either of such offices.

DIED.

At his residence near Greenville, Pitt Co. on the 25th inst. Mr. WILEY BROWN, aged 68 years. Mr. B. was a most excellent citizen.

At the residence of her husband, Thomas E. Green Esq., one mile from Warrenton, on Tuesday night 22nd. inst., Mrs. ANN GREEN in the 60th. year of her age.—The death of this truly estimable woman leaves a blank that cannot be filled. To her fond husband, she was all that a wife should have been. To her children, a mother indeed, fond, tender and ever anxious, to her domestics, kind, forbearing and indulgent, and to her neighbors social and obliging. Mrs. GREEN was really kind and charitable to the poor, and her friendship was valuable for its sincerity. Many years ago she united with the baptist denomination of Christians, and ever exemplified her faith by the exercise of Christian virtues. Long may her memory be nourished and her virtues be imitated. E.

A FEW WORDS TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS.

I advertised in the early part of the season that I would sell goods as cheap, as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, Cost Houses not excepted—as cheap as he who had paid for his goods, or ever intended to pay for them. And I here take the privilege to say, that I think my customers will bear me out when I say, I have done so in almost every instance.

I told the people to "come to Creech's," to buy their goods—they have come, and they are still coming—and I think they will pardon me when I say they have shown their good judgment.

I now tell them to "come to Creech's" to buy their goods.

I don't advertise my goods at New York Cost.—I intend to represent my goods to you in a fair and equitable way, and sell them fully as cheap as any so-called Cost House. And I here say to the so-called cost gentlemen, if they paid what they charge their customers for goods, I advise them to go back to the Licenfe man and surrender their license. Go back to your Land-lords and ask them to take back your houses,—and proclaim to the world that you have missed your calling, and are not fit for merchants.

I compromised my debts that I owed North before the war, by paying them at one hundred cents in the dollar.

Let them start their opposition—let them all talk. But "come to Creech's," to buy your goods. You will find me at B. Smith's corner, ready and willing at all times to serve you right.

1867. "THE WORLD" 1867.

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to the claims of "THE WORLD" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merit consists in its character as An enterprising and Trustworthy Newspaper.

The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions, than even any of the eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy, and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance.

FERTILIZERS FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 325 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the Country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF
Moisture	5.70
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	38.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron (soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)	36.80
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	.20
Insoluble	2.60
	99.90

The animal matter afforded 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

LATE STORM.—Marine disasters have been numerous during the late bad weather. The Wilmington Dispatch says:

She went to pieces on Point Lookout, and the Captain and crew have not been heard from. The Trindelen was loaded by Messrs. O. G. Parsley & Co.

A POEM.—The beautiful poem recited by J. Barron Hope, of Norfolk, last summer at Jones' Springs in Warren, at the rearing of the monument to Miss Lee, has been presented by the author, to the Ladies' Memorial Association of Richmond, and has been beautifully printed at the Examiner office, and is for sale for the benefit of the Hollywood Memorial fund.

The amount of loose thinking respecting the Constitution and its obligations is really wonderful. To some men it is a mere agreement of the people, to be set aside by any election return or town meeting resolve. Others regard it as a written instrument to be turned and twisted into any meaning by an act of Congress. To others it is the fundamental law of the nation, to which the assent of every individual in it is formally pledged, and from the obligations of which no man can escape save by expatriation or amendment. The will of the nation is far more sacredly pledged to its observance than if it held an election every year to ratify its provisions, for every election that is held, every vote that is cast, every law that is enacted, every decision that is rendered, every sale that is made or title that is conveyed, is an endorsement of the Constitution, and proceeds on the assumption that until it is authentically altered it does express the sovereign will of the nation. There may be a question raised about an act of Congress or a popular vote representing the public will, but there is none about the Constitution. True, doubts may be raised as to the meaning of certain provisions, yet every year these are diminishing, for the tribunal whose duty it is to interpret them have passed upon most of them of doubtful construction. No man, therefore, has a right to rise in Congress or anywhere else, but especially in Congress, and proclaim that the will of this nation contravenes in any particular the Constitution of the United States. For that is the most solemn and formally authenticated expression of the public will that is possible, and must stand as the resistless fiat of the nation until, in constitutional Convention assembled, the sovereignity of the nation abrogates and amends its provisions.—*Nat. Our Tuesday Morning Dispatches.

Veto Message.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

The President's veto of the Colorado bill was sent in to day and is as follows:

I return the act admitting Colorado. A sense of duty prevents my approval. With the exception of an additional clause, it is the same that was vetoed in May last, which still awaits the Senate's reconsideration, and I am unable to see any reason for changing my opinion, but see additional reasons for confirming the former veto.

The additional section makes the bill more objectionable. The Constitution of Colorado promises that the laws existing shall continue. Among these is one absolutely prohibiting negro suffrage, and the recent territorial legislature almost unanimously refused to repeal it. And, pending the passage of the act by Congress, the territorial legislature passed an act denying jury rights to negroes.

The bill before me grants rights denied by the Legislature and Constitution of Colorado. This incongruity, and the protest on the part of the people against a State government, clearly indicate the impolicy and injustice proposed in the enactment. It is a subject of serious enquiry whether the enactment is not an attempt to exercise powers not conferred by the Constitution.

The President submits evidence of the repugnance of the people of Colorado to a State government. The total population of Colorado, is 27,809, only one fifth of what is required for Congressional representation, and argues the injustice of allowing this small community, one representative and two Senators. Such admission of States was not practiced in the early days Florida's admission in 1845, resulted from sectional strife, which we would do well to regard as a warning of evil, rather than an example for imitation.

He shows by statistics, that other States, when admitted, had a population entitling them to one and nearly two representatives. Every organized Territory equally with Colorado is entitled to admission. The logical precedent, admits Dacotah, Montana, Idaho and the other Territories, when they present themselves. Giving us ten new Senators and five Representatives furnished by a population scarcely entitled to one Representative in the existing States, while the average population for two Senators is now nearly a million.

The enabing act for Colorado was passed under false statistics and the deliberate decision of the people against forming a State; besides the bill is so framed as to render its execution impossible, and the question is whether it is not a nullity or not in itself, and argues at some length the incongruities of the bill.

In conclusion he says: The admission of States is regarded as an epoch in history marking the progress of the nation; but he cannot see that the proposed proceeding accords with the uniform policy of the government in the admission of new States.

In conclusion he says the admission of States is regarded as an epoch in history, marking the progress of the nation, but he cannot see that the proposed proceeding accords with the uniform policy of the government in the admission of new States.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

In the Senate among a number of petitions is one for a National Bureau of Education.

The President was directed to inform the Senate why the Governor of Colorado was absent from his post? Why here? Who paid his expenses? When and how often he has been absent from his post?

The same enquiry was ordered regarding other territorial Governors and Indian Agents.

The judicial bill goes back to the House with amendments. It prescribes the machinery of habeas corpus, but excepts from its operations military offenders or those tainted with rebellion, prior to date of the act.

In the House Mr. Trimble, of Kentucky, introduced a bill repealing the cotton and sugar tax. Referred to Ways and Means Committee.

A bill amending the district franchise was introduced, extending it regardless of sex. A motion to refer it to a special committee of five, was lost by a vote of Yeas 49, Nays 73. Referred to District Committee.

An unsuccessful effort was made to refer the impeachment bill to a committee of seven, on the ground that the Judiciary Committee lacked time. The Chairman said that the committee had time, and in answer to the question what the Committee was doing, said that it would be known at the proper time. No one outside of the Committee knew, and branded all reports sent North as false.

The Postmaster General was ordered to report what amount was due mail contractors in Tennessee on the opening of the rebellion.

Mr. Stevens bill was taken up.

Mr. Julian opposed the bill, as he favored keeping the Southern States from representation indefinitely.

Mr. Stevens modified his bill materially and appeared to Mr. Bingham to withdraw his motion to refer, so the bill might be completed. Bingham declined, wishing the House to decide.

Mr. Stevens said that the reference of the bill would be its death.

A bitter colloquy between Stevens and Bingham ensued.

The Speaker called Stevens to order for saying that he did not believe a word that Bingham said.

The bill was referred to the reconstruction committee by 88 to 65.

Afternoon Dispatches.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

Hon. W. A. Sharkey, of Miss., has been admitted to practice in the Supreme Court.

The Reconstruction Committee is hopelessly inharmonious.

The phraseology of the exception to the bill securing habeas corpus to persons imprisoned contrary to the Constitution, and traitors is as follows: "And that the provisions of this act shall not apply to the case of any person held by the military authorities of the United States, charged with military offences, or with having aided or abetted rebellion against the Government of the United States, prior to the passage of this act."

Wheeling, Virginia, has elected Democratic municipal officers except Treasurer.

The Maryland Legislature's bill, for a Constitutional Convention excludes preachers as delegates.

Mr. Ashley is mooting the question whether the acts of Mr. Johnson, before becoming President, render him liable to impeachment.

A letter from Mr. Guthrie expresses his hopelessness of physical ability to resume his seat.

The Senate took no action whatever on the Colorado veto.

Gen. Grant was in consultation with the military committee yesterday.

Southern Relief.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.

A meeting of the Executive committee of the Southern Relief commission was held at the Merchants Bank. Mr. W. M. Vermillie acting as temporary Chairman, the committee organized by electing Mr. Archibald Russell permanent Chairman, and proceeded to transact the necessary business of the commission.

I PROPOSE for the protection of the citizens of Raleigh and surrounding country, against the imposition of those so-called Cost Stores, to furnish each and every person, the New York Cost of any goods they may want to buy; by this means they can tell whether they are buying goods at Cost or paying a profit on them.

Call before going to any of those Cost Stores so-called, and let me give you a memorandum of Cost prices.

Most of my large stock I will sell at cost but I have; goods that I will not sell in that way, and neither will those merchants who make such a flourish about selling at Cost.

No merchant in this place has purchased his Goods any cheaper than I bought mine. Any assertion to the contrary is false; and I will guarantee to sell Goods as low as any Cost House. All I ask is an opportunity to prove the truthfulness of this assertion.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE!

BAUGH'S

RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

Manufactured under the formula originated in 1834 and patented by

BAUGH & SONS,

SOLE PROPRIETORS, AT THE

Delaware River Chemical Works,

PHILADELPHIA, U. S. A.

This old established MANURE is manufactured from Bones that have not been burned or steamed, and it contains all their original organic matter. It is active in its operation, and is a fertilizer of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil like Peruvian Guano, but on the contrary permanently improves it. Previous to 1861 it was introduced into the Southern States to considerable extent, and again in 1865, where it has been used with remarkable success upon Cotton, Corn, Tobacco, and all Crops.

A trial will convince any planter of its merits.—Pamphlets containing well-known Southern evidence furnished upon application to New York or Philadelphia offices.

☞ Sold by Dealers in all the principal cities and towns throughout the United States and British Provinces.

LIFE INSURANCE.

MANY insure their lives because they see the folly of neglecting to do so. Many who do not insure, argue that it is folly to insure. Which is right? If those who do not insure can cite instances of the harm done by a policy of life Insurance, if they can point out men who have lost $5,000 to $100,000 by Life Insurance, then upon proof of same, we must believe them. Hundreds of instances can readily be shown where parties have been benefitted to this extent.—In North Carolina there are some Widows and Children ready to testify to the good resulting from a life Insurance on their only earthly dependence.

The "Etna Life Co., in loosing $23.000 the past year has relieved want—and now with over $6.000.000 of assets—offers sure protection to all those who will avail themselves of her liberal terms, by calling on
